NOTED DIVINE PASSES AWAY

Rev. Edward Everett Hale Dies at Roxbury, Mass.

WHOLE COUNTRY IN MOURNING

Messages Expressing Sorrow and Esteem Pour into the Hale Household. Wife, Daughter and One Son at His Bedside When the End Came. Deceased Famous as Author, Journalist, Preacher and Philanthropist.

Boston, June 11.—The morning light was breaking as the venerable Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., chaplain of the United States senate, Unitarian divine, philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last in his home in Roxbury. At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D. Hale, and his son, Philip L. Hale, the artist. Two other sons, Arthur Hale of Washington and Professor Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union college, returned home too late to see their distinguished father alive.

On his return from Washington a few weeks ago, it was reported that Dr. Hale was not in good health, but he soon regained his activity and until Tuesday attended meetings and received friends. Wednesday night, however, he showed signs of distress and, rapidly weakening, passed peacefully away in the early hours of the morning.

It seemed as if the whole country joined in mourning the loss of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being from President and Mrs. Taft.

As an author Dr. Hale's fame rests on his short stories, such as "The Man Without a Country," as an instigator of the general uplift, the work of the two great organizations, the Lend-A-Hand clubs, and the King's Daughters, will always add to his renown; as a minister and pastor, his half century in the pulpit of the South Congregational church and his preaching in many other churches were prolific of wise spiritual inspiration; while as a historian his writings have become authorities.

It was Dr. Hale, who twenty years before its consummation, predicted a worldwide peace tribunal; it was Dr. Hale who upheld Garrison and Phillips in their anti-slavery work, and it was Dr. Hale whose benevolent counsel brought comfort to the sick and wounded soldiers of the battle fields of the Civil war as a member of the sanitary commission.

SHRINERS START FOR HOME

Thirty-fifth Annual Session Ended at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., June 11.—Nobles of the Mystic Shrine brought their thirty-fifth annual session to a close with an elaborate ball at the First regiment armory.

The red-fezzed fraternalists have begun leaving the city.

The early part of the day was utilized by many of the nobles in visiting the famous tobacco "breaks" of Louisville, where open house was kept and opportunity provided the visitors to watch the sale of the weed. In the afternoon several thousand watched a mimic attack on Fort Boonesboro, portraying the coming of Boone to the aid of the sorely beset garrison in the early days of Kentucky.

NONUNION MEN ATTACKED

Fierce Fight Occurs in Which Several Persons Are Injured.

Erie, Pa., June 11.—While a dozen nonunion seamen were being taken to boats in the harbor here they were attacked, it is alleged, by pickets on duty for the union seamen. A fierce free-for-all fight resulted and over 1,000 spectators were attracted to the scene. One of the pickets is alleged to have drawn a revolver. A bystander attempted to take it from him and during the tussle the revolver was discharged, wounding Frank Whipple, a spectator, in the right leg. A number of others were injured slightly. The police arrested William Godell, second mate; John Gardner, secret service man; John Salsbury, second engineer, and William McHugh, a striker.

Kills His Father-in-Law.

Webb City, Mo., June 11.—Following a quarrel with his wife, Rube Underwood, thirty-five years of age, shot and killed his father-in-law, J. P. Small, sixty years old, at the latter's home here.

PROGRESSIVES MEET DEFEAT

Dolliver and His Associates Beaten in Senate.

ALDRICH FORCES VICTORIOUS

Time and Again They Vote Down Amendments to the Wool Schedule of the Tariff Bill Offered by the Senator From Iowa—Debate Is Good Natured and Mr. Dolliver Talks in a Humorous Vein.

Washington, June 11.—Time and time again Senator Dolliver and eight or nine other of the so-called progressive Republicans went down to defeat in their efforts to break the ranks of the Aldrich forces on the wool schedule of the tariff bill. The Iowa senator occupied the floor the greater part of the day and offered numerous amendments looking to the reduction of the finance committee rates, but in each instance the amendments were voted down and the committee sustained.

The first of Mr. Dolliver's suggestions had for the object the confining to the wool in them the duty on so-called yarns which are only part wool, and after considerable spirited discussion in which Messrs. Dolliver and Warren were the principal participants the amendment was defeated by a vote of 31 to 43. In the course of the debate Mr. Warren contended that the object of this provision was to prevent the importation of cheap clothes, but this was met by a suggestion from Mr. Dolliver that there might be some people who would be benefited by having cheap clothes brought in from England. On the vote Mr. Dolliver was supported by Senators Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Cummins, La Follette and Nelson, while Senator McEnery of Louisiana was the only Democratic senator who voted with the Republicans against the provision.

Many of Mr. Dolliver's amendments were along the same lines as the first and were intended to carry out the principle that in fixing a duty on mixed cloths it should be applicable only to the wools in the cloth.

Senator Aldrich objected on the ground that it would be impossible to determine the proportion of the constituents in such articles and that therefore the provision was impracticable. On the entire series the vote was practically the same, and in no instance did any of the Republican senators change.

Conditions Entirely Different.

One of Mr. Dolliver's amendments was identical in terms with a provision suggested by Mr. Aldrich as a part of the McKinley tariff bill of 1888, but the Rhode Island senator refused to accept it, saying that the conditions were entirely different now from what they were in those days.

In the course of a discussion between Senators Aldrich and Owen of the duty on blankets, the fact was brought out that blankets pay at the rate of 180 per cent ad valorem. In this connection the chairman of the finance committee was given an opportunity to accept a general provision prohibiting any rates in the schedule above 100 per cent, but he declined to do so, because, as he said, it might let in foreign woolen manufacturers.

The debate throughout the day was good natured, and Mr. Dolliver discussed polka dots, corn plasters, home mottoes and kindred subjects with much humor. He seemed to have real feeling over the possible tears in the eyes of the Irish potato.

The evening session was devoted to speeches by Senators Gore and La Follette, both in advocacy of lower wool rates. Mr. La Follette offered a number of amendments to the wool schedule.

The house was in session just eleven minutes, transacting little business before adjourning until Monday.

Fine People In 1789.

My lady was as reckless as my lord and rattled the dice box and shuffled the cards from dusk until morning, going home with ruined fortunes in her sedan chair when workmen were going home from lathe and loom to breakfast. Family diamonds and jewels and plate were staked when the guineas were exhausted, and when these possessions had gone farms and estates were sacrificed. The amusements, too, of wealthy people were of a coarse and cruel description. Rat worrying, cockfighting and badger baiting were favorite diversions. Prizefighting was regarded as essential to keep up the courage of Englishmen. — Chambers' Journal.

MRS. GOULD ON THE STAND

Testifies in Her Suit for Separation From Her Husband.

New York, June 11.—It was a small and slighter Katherine Clemmons Gould who took the stand in her suit for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, than the public remembered, and her loss in weight was becoming. Mrs. Gould wore mourning for her father and the somber black of her gown and her long gloves was relieved only by the double string of pearls at her neck and the flash of the diamonds in her long hand-purse of black leather. She seemed nervous at times, under the strain of cross-examination and when the questions led her to the early days of her married life she showed visible emotion, but so far as the presence of her husband was concerned she seemed not to know he was in the same room, although he sat but a few feet from her throughout the day's session.

The long delayed hearing before Justice Dowling, who will make his finding without the aid of a jury, is the culmination of a case that began in May, 1907, and has been marked in its continuance by many sensational accusations of misconduct and attempted subornation of witnesses. Mrs. Gould alleges that her husband deserted her without just cause on July 16, 1906. Howard Gould answers that his justification was the habits of the plaintiff; that since he left her he has made her an allowance of $25,000 a year, but that she is extravagant, intemperate and has been guilty of misconduct. The wife denies the charges and asks for an allowance of $120,000 a year to enable her to live in the manner to which her husband had accustomed her.

Rome, June 11.—The ceremonies in connection with the golden jubilee of the American college in Rome were continued with a grand banquet in the rectory of the college. One hundred and forty dignitaries of the church, including cardinals and high officials of the vatican, sat down to the repast.

WOULD FORM A COALITION

Progressive Republicans and Democrats Get Busy.

Washington, June 11.—Encouraged by what they interpret to be a weakening of the opposition to an income tax amendment, another move to form a coalition between the progressive Republicans and the Democrats has been begun in the senate.

The programme outlined is that Senator Bailey shall present his income tax amendment and a motion to amend is to be made by Mr. Cummins to reduce the proposed tax from 3 to 2 per cent and to include a provision for a tax upon the income of corporations.

It is said that Mr. Bailey will accept both of these changes and that all of those who favor an income tax will unite on the amended measure.

Members of the finance committee deny that the tacit endorsement by certain Republican leaders of the proposed tax on dividends of corporations is intended as a compromise with the income tax advocates, but say that it is offered merely to satisfy those who believe that the import duties will be insufficient for the government needs.

Thousands of Children Parade.

New York, June 11.—Over 100,000 Sunday school children marched through the streets of Brooklyn in a parade which was reviewed by Vice President James S. Sherman, Governor Charles E. Hughes and other notables. The occasion was the eightieth anniversary celebration of the Brooklyn Sunday School union.

"MICHAEL'S"

GRANT MOBBED BY CONFEDERATE VETS

Civil War Hero's Son Given a Touching Ovation.

Memphis, Tenn., June 11.—A frenzied demonstration of welcome by the men in gray for the son of the man who defeated them marked the final scene of the nineteenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans. It took place during the parade. In the reviewing stand stood General Frederick Dent Grant of the United States army. A cavalry division approached and its commanding officer, old and grizzled, peered steadily at General Grant a moment. Then he turned in his saddle and yelled: "Come on, you kids; here's General Grant come to life again in his son."

With one of the oldtime rebel yells, the division charged on the stand and jostled one another for an opportunity to shake the hand of the son of their oldtime enemy. Front that moment, every gray-clad veteran who could reach the stand rushed up to shake hands with General Grant. The stocky army officer's cold gray eyes filled with tears and his shoulders shook with emotion as he murmured: "God bless you all, boys. God bless you."

Battled-torn, banners were grouped at his feet and waved over his head in salute. More than one veteran was in tears as they saw the famous federal chieftain's son so touched by the situation. It is doubtful if any other Northern man, even a president, ever received such an ovation.

The parade over, the reunion practically was ended.

ALL EFFORTS PROVE FUTILE

Attempts to Stop Rush of Water Through Canadian Canal Fail.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 11.—All efforts to stop the rush of water through the Canadian canal lock here have failed. The movable emergency dam was forced into place except for the last one of its big wickets, or leaves. Then it was discovered that the frame was racked and bent. The frame probably will have to be raised and straightened. Many observers of the situation are of the opinion that it will be necessary eventually to build a temporary dam by dumping pigiron into the upper canal. Efforts are being made to reinforce the emergency dam with big square timbers.

All attempts to reach the engineer of the Perry G. Walker, which wrecked the lock by ramming the lower gate, have proved fruitless. Rumors are current that the engineer is a salt water man and that the difference between engine room signals on salt water and fresh water was responsible for his sending the vessel full speed ahead when the captain signalled to back up. President Gilchrist of the Gilchrist line, which owns the Walker, said, however, that the engineer is not from salt water and that he had first class papers.

Missionary Work Discussed.

Clifton Springs, N. Y., June 11.—Missionary work in Japan, Korea, China and India was the subject of the day's session of the International Missionary union. Addresses on that subject were delivered by the Rev. J. Summer Stone, recording secretary of the union, and other speakers.

CAUSES A SLIGHT FLURRY

"Yellow Peril" Discussed by Conference of Charities and Corrections.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 11.—Immigration, with all its involved problems, and the question of just how far vested authorities should go in breaking up or sustaining the integrity of families where vice and crime exist, offered two absorbing topics for the second day's sessions of the thirty-sixth national conference of charities and corrections here. The "yellow peril" caused a slight flurry in the section devoted to immigrants, but the debate, acrimonious at times, ended with the best of feeling among the delegates.

At the night session Robert A. Wood of Boston read the report of the committee on families of neighborhoods, and Francis R. McLean of New York spoke briefly on "Social Problems of Smaller Cities."

DEFENSE WILL BE AN ALIBI

Govan Smith Asserts He Was Not Implicated in Shooting of Callahan.

Jackson, Tenn., June 11.—An alibi will be the defense of Govan Smith, one of those under arrest charged with the attempted assassination of former Sheriff and former Feud Leader Callahan at Crockettville early Monday. Smith claims he can give an account of his whereabouts at the time of the shooting, showing that he was not in that vicinity. It was stated also that Elisha Smith and Levi Johnson, the other two under arrest, will attempt to fasten the crime of the shooting on a member of the Callahan faction.

Callahan's condition shows signs of improvement, though his condition is still critical.

DISMEMBERED BODY FOUND

New York Police Confronted With Mysterious Crime.

New York, June 11.—The dismembered body of a man, with the head missing, was found by the police here done up in two bundles of brown paper and black oilcloth. The bundles had been left in charge of a small boy by a stranger who had promised him 5 cents to watch them till he returned.

The bundles were taken to the nearest station house. On the wrappings was written in letters of red "Black Hand." There were four stab wounds in the chest of the body.

Minnesota Firemen Adjourn.

Cloquet, Minn., June 11.—The meeting of the Minnesota Firemen's association adjourned with the election of the following officers: President, L. S. Kent of Alexandria; first vice president, Trainford of Owatonna; second vice president, Canterbury of Minneapolis. Next year's meeting will be held at Alexandria.

GOVERNMENT MEAT INSPECTOR RESIGNS

Says He Could Not Tolerate Conditions He Saw.

St. Louis, June 11.—After eighteen months' service as a United States meat inspector in East St. Louis packing houses, J. F. Harms has resigned, and has written a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson demanding an investigation of the meat inspection system at the National stock yards.

Harms, who has gone to his home in Fremont, O., asserts that he resigned because he could not tolerate the conditions he saw, and that inspectors in charge of the bureau of animal industry are too lenient with the packers.

He says no animus prompted his letter.

After asserting that "United States inspected and passed," as it appears on products of all the packing houses, is meaningless because of the inadequacy of the inspection. Harms says in part:

"The inspection at the National stock yards, Illinois, is costing the people approximately $100,000 a year, and it is not actually worth $1 to them. For when the word is passed from the inspector-in-charge on to the inspectors actually doing the work on the floors that they are getting too many condemned animals and to change the grading, what does that mean? It means that the whole thing is rotten and a farce.

"Mr. Secretary, the packers are getting today from 70 to 80 per cent of what ought to be condemned and destroyed."

Tragedy Kept Secret.

London, June 11.—Alfred G. Vanderbilt looked nervous and distraught at the horse show, where he had a party of English friends in his box. Apparently he had seen the newspapers with the story of the tragic details of Mme. Mary O'Brien Ruiz' suicide. The story did not mention Vanderbilt's name. Somebody interested was powerful enough to keep the Ruiz tragedy secret almost a month.

ALASKA FAIR EXHIBIT

Miniature Model Farm Shown by University of California.

ONE-FIFTIETH OF REAL SIZE.

Best Irrigation Methods Used in the United States Are Represented.
Half of the Area is Planted With Small Sized Trees.

Showing the latest and best methods of irrigation worked out by the government experts for various soils and for everything from an orange orchard to a field of beets or alfalfa, a model farm has been constructed ten feet square in the agricultural building at the University of California in Berkeley, Cal.

The farm occupies a prominent place at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle, Wash., and is one of the most unique and instructive exhibits.
Built on a scale of one-fiftieth of the actual size, it represents a farm of about six acres. Every approved irrigation method used in the United States is represented, and the ditches, gates, dams, zigzag and straight basins in orchard irrigation, tube furrows and other parts are constructed as in the actual work down to the smallest details. Half of the area is planted with miniature trees, and the whole shows at a glance the various improvements and inventions in one of the most important branches of government experimentation.

F. W. Roeding, recently appointed head of the Berkeley station for irrigation investigation under the United States department of agriculture as an expert for the coast, planned the farm.
The actual work of construction was done under his direction by E. J. Hoff, United States expert in the work of constructing irrigation machinery and devices.

Irrigation methods for different soils and land contours are indicated on the model farm. One and one-half acres are in orchard, represented by miniature trees and showing zigzag and straight basins as well as open cut and tube furrow methods. Another section represents alfalfa in rectangular, contour and border checks, while on the balance methods of irrigation for summer crops are shown. Ditches are laid out to supply the various sections, and twenty types of miniature ditch structures made of brass can be seen. The latter include various measuring boxes to illustrate methods practiced in ascertaining quantities of water delivered. All is constructed to scale and

FRENCH AIRSHIP EXPRESS.

Plan For Service of Dirigibles in Four Directions From Paris.

In a few months, according to the plans of the National Aerial league in Paris, an express service of dirigible balloons will be inaugurated from Paris in four directions. The league's airships, if these plans are carried out, will be operated from the capital to Fontainebleau, Orleans, Deauville and Nancy.

The enterprise is backed by Henry Deutsch de la Meurthe, the giver of many prizes for aviation, including that of $20,000 won by Santos-Dumont when he circumnavigated the Eiffel tower in 1900 and numerous aeroplane prizes since.

Five dirigibles have been ordered of various dimensions and designed to carry eight to fifteen passengers at a speed of thirty miles an hour. The machines will vary in length from 200 to nearly 270 feet and will have capacities varying from something under 5,000 to nearly 10,000 cubic yards. The plans call for two of the smaller and two of the larger dimensions and one of a size in between.

The airship for the Nancy route has already been constructed. The promoters promise a daily service on this line when the weather is good, beginning in September, stops to be made at Meaux and Rheims.

NOVEL GIFTS FOR A BRIDE.

Guests Brought Useful Liquids in Bottles Dressed as Dolls.

The most novel shower for a bride elect was that given for Miss Ida Gordon, who is to soon marry Fred Smith of Springfield, O., by Miss Emma Stamford. She called it a bottle shower.

Each guest was asked to bring a bottle filled with something useful.
The bottles were dressed as dolls, and an effort was made to have the dresses appropriate to the contents of the bottles. One bottle filled with turpentine wore the garb of a nun. One with skin food had on dainty clothes of a baby. One labeled poison was dressed to represent death, with skull and crossbones.

Wornout and attenuated cab horses will soon be an unknown quantity in the streets of Paris. A society known as the Assistance aux Animaux, workcieties, seeks to provide Paris with cabs drawn only by horses in a perfect state of fitness.

NOTED SPORT'S SOBRIQUET.

How Charles E. Davies Came to Be Called "Parson."

Many years ago Charles E. Davies, one of the best known sporting men in the world, whose sobriquet of "Parson" Davies was conferred upon him by the late William H. Vanderbilt, was managing Dan O'Leary when O'Leary was engaged in walking contests at Madison Square Garden, New York.
On one occasion William H. Vanderbilt saw him in the arena and, struck by his appearance, turned to Ed Stokes and asked:

"Who is that clean cut, well dressed gentleman?"

"He," replied Stokes, "is a prominent Chicago sporting man."

"Why," said Vanderbilt, "he looks more like a handsome parson."
A score of persons heard the remark, and the name stuck to Davies.

Yarmouth's Narrow Street.

Kitty Witches row, Great Yarmouth, can justly claim to be the narrowest street in the world, the entrance at one end being only twenty-nine inches and at the other fifty-six inches. It gives some idea of the width when one mentions that neighbors can shake hands and put out each other's candles across the street! Why these rows have been so constructed has given rise to a good deal of discussion. Some writers give the reason that when there was a very high tide
the water might flow through them;
others, in the event of an invasion they would prove an excellent means of defense or that the ground plans of the rows were suggested by the fishermen's nets, which, spread on the dunes to dry, had a narrow pathway left between them, which represented the rows. Yarmouth has 145 rows, and their total length exceeds seven miles, Kitty Witches being the most interesting and the narrowest of all.

ENTERTAINMENT A GREAT SUCCESS

Pupils of St. Cecilia's Hall Made Hit at the Opera House
Thursday Evening

EVERY NUMBER WAS GOOD

Almost Impossible to Particularize as all Did Credit to the Instructors

The opera house was well filled Thursday night by the friends of the pupils of St. Cecilia's Hall and others who had gathered to witness the annual entertainment given under the direction of the Sisters of St. Benedict, who have charge of the school.

The program opened with "The Shades of Shakespeare's Women," the prologue being rendered by Miss Kathleen Hawkins, and rendered well. The characters were taken as follows: Ariel, Esther Belmont; Miranda, Bertha Glunt; Portia, Ruby Callahan; Juliet, Helen Taylor; Katherine—the Shrew, Elizabeth Peters; Ophelia, Mabel Smythe; Lady Macbeth, Mamie Scallen; 1st Witch, Irene Koop; 2d Witch, Martha Peters; 3d Witch, Irene Cauley. All took their respective parts excellently, the singing of Esther Belmont as Ariel and of Mabel Smythe, in Ophelia's soliloquy being features. The portrayal of Macbeth, by Mamie Scallen, was also well done and was very weird with its accompaniment of witches and caldron.

"O Listen to the Band," a motion song with counter-marches by Misses Amorita Theviot, Gertrude Marco, Bertha Shelborne, Cyrella Behme, Odelia Koop, Kathleen Hawkins, Agnes Jaeger and Margaret Quinn was excellent in its self and finely rendered, showing persistent and painstaking instruction.

Miss Mamie Scallen recited the Poem "King Robert of Sicily," impressively. Miss Scallen is a fine speaker. She has a good voice, a true perception of her subjects and does well in serious or comic parts.

"Since Birdie Took Delsarte," a humorous descriptive motion song by Misses Martha Peters, Helen Taylor, Mabel Smythe, Bertha Glunt and Elizabeth Peters, was well rendered and made a hit with the audience.

"The Wise Wolf and the Woodcutter," a rhymed dramatization of "Little Red Riding Hood" in three acts was well done and found favor with the audience. The following was the cast: Jack—the Woodcutter.....

.....Werner Hemstead
The Wolf.....Harold Breason
Little Red Riding Hood.....Marie Clark
Dame Margery—L. R. R. Hood's

Mother.....Irene Cawley
Fairy Felicia.....Esther Belmont
Granny—Impersonated.....

"Murder Will Out," a farce in one act was a laughter producer from start to finish all of the actors acquitting themselves creditably. The cast of characters was as follows:

Grandma Brown—An Old Yankee Woman.....Bertha Glunt
Francis Brown—Her Granddaughter.....Mabel Smythe

Marie Taylor, Frances' Friend.....Elizabeth Peter
Clara Lee, Frances' Friend.....Bessie Paine Dinah—The Colored Cook.....

.....Mamie Scallen
Bridget O'Flaherty—Looking for.....

A situation.....Frances Quinn
"Leave Your Hobbies at Home" sung by Esther Belmont in the character of a six year old girl, secured the only encore of the evening. It was certainly fetching and showed Miss Belmont's abilities as an actress off well.

The closing number of the program was a pantomime, "Lotos Eaters." The poem was read by Mamie Scallen and read well and the groupings were artistic and beautiful, the pantomime closing with a tableau with colored lights. Miss May Jones presided at the piano. The following young ladies took part:

Group I—Mildred Wood, Bertha Glunt, Elizabeth Peters.

Group II—Carrie Barron, Helen Taylor, Mamie McGarry.

Group III—Ruby Callahan, Gertrude Koop, Genevieve Brady.

Taken all together the entertainment was a decided success and the Sisters of St. Benedict are to be given great credit for their work, as well as are those who participated.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP

Amy Gilbertson Had Highest Marks in Class of 1909 and Wins One to Olaf College

Miss Amy Gilbertson is fortunate in securing a scholarship at St. Olaf College. This scholarship had been offered by the college to the pupil in the class of 1909 of the Brainerd High School who had the highest markings. Miss Gilbertson was the pupil of honor in the class and hence secured the prize as is shown by the following certificate from Prof. Vogel:

This is to certify that Amy Augusta Gilbertson is a graduate of the High school of Brainerd in the class of 1909, and has attained the highest rank in scholarship in that class and is therefore entitled to the scholarship offered by St. Olaf College.

WILL HAVE TENNIS CLUBS

Tennis Bids Fair to be the Leading Sport in Brainerd During the Coming Summer

Indications point to a revival of the game of tennis in Brainerd this season. A number of young men have already organized a club and will put in a tennis court on the lots owned by Edward Cullen on North Ninth street. There are movements under way also to organize three or four more clubs, some of them being composed entirely of young ladies and a number of series of games are being planned, to culminate, it is hoped later in the season with a tennis tournament. There is no better exercise than tennis, especially for those whose occupation is of a sedentary character and it is to be hoped that the game may increase in popularity as the season advances.

RAILROAD NEWS

No Merger Contemplated

St. Paul, June 10.—Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway company, today emphatically denied the report from New York that J. J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern board of directors, had found a way to merge in a single corporation the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Burlington and the Colorado & Southern railroads, under the broad charter provisions of the latter road. "There is no truth in that story," said Mr. Hill. "We do not intend to form such a merger, even under so broad a charter as that of the Colorado & Southern, for that would mean a great amount of litigation before the matter was definitely settled."

BUILDS UP THE THIN AND WEAK

Samose Makes Thin People Fat, or
H. P. Dunn Will Return Money

In Samose are combined flesh-giving food elements that soon produces a steady and noticeable gain in flesh. Taken after meals, Samose mingles with the food, and causes it to be assimilated so that the fat producing elements are retained in the system, and you will soon get good flesh, steady nerves and a healthy body.

H. P. Dunn has seen such remarkable results following the use of Samose that he offers to pay for the treatment if it does not make thin people plump and rosy.

You run no risk whatever in buying Samose; it is a true flesh-forming food and is sold under the guarantee of one of the most reputable business houses in Brainerd to refund the money if it does not give complete satisfaction. Sent post paid on receipt of price, 50c.

A Strenuous Worker.

"The Reminiscences of Bismarck" contains an account of his courtship. He was a young Prussian officer when he first met Johanna von Puttkamer, but he made application at once to her father for permission to pay his addresses. Aghast at Bismarck's proposal, the old gentleman did not absolutely decline it. Instead he wrote giving permission to pay a sort of "visit of inspection" at the Puttkamer home. Bismarck hastened to Reinfeld. The whole Puttkamer family was lined up to greet him. The father and mother glared at him solemnly, and Johanna herself stood between them, her eyes cast modestly downward. With the swift, whirlwind decision that scored Bismarck his later political triumphs he carried the situation by storm. Galloping up the drive way, he leaped from his horse, ran forward and flung his arms around Johanna, taking no heed of her scandalized parents and catching her to his breast and covering her blushing face with kisses. After that there could be no talk of "probation" or "waiting." The betrothal was necessarily an accepted fact.

FRANK HANSMAN WAS FOUND DEAD

George Hansman Found Dead in Bed in Same House Feb.
8, 1906

Frank Hansman, who lived alone at 820 Northeast Tenth street, was found dead in his home last evening by a neighbor who happened to be passing and saw the kitchen door open and noticed the body lying on the floor. Hansman was seen around the place about noon and had eaten his dinner and replaced most of the eatables when he was stricken. He had evidently been standing by the table when the final summons came and was found huddled in the corner beside the door. Coroner Thos. W. Gibson was summoned and decided that no inquest was necessary. The cause of death was undoubtedly heart disease. The funeral will be held Sunday, probably at the Zion German Lutheran church of which the deceased was a member.

A remarkable co-incidence is that his brother, George Hansman was found dead in the same building February 8, 1906. He had lain down with his pipe in his mouth, evidently to take a smoke, and had died without a struggle.

The deceased was a brother of John Hansman, who resides on Second Avenue northeast and is said to have considerable property. He was nearly 70 years of age and had never married.

A BUSY DAY IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Two Arraignments Before Judge Warner This Morning on Charges of Larceny

ONE CASE WAS SETTLED

Hearing of Herbert Sargent Continued Until Wednesday at 10 O'clock

This was Judge Warner's busy day in municipal court. There were two arraignments on charges of larceny. Herman Blank, residing on the south side was arrested on the charge of stealing wood of Albert Foster. Blank plead not guilty and the case was afterwards settled. The wood was in a pasture which Blank had rented and he thought the poles had been abandoned and took them home for fuel. He paid the costs and paid for the wood and the case was dropped.

Herbert Sargent a farmer, was in court charged with the theft of a pocket book containing $28 from one Lee Houchins. The alleged theft took place at the Farmers Home hotel on Laurel street and according to the allegations of the complaining witness Sargent reached into the bedroom window early that morning while Houchins slept and abstracted the pocketbook from the latter's trousers. Sargent plead not guilty, and the hearing was set for Wednesday next at 10 o'clock.

Two drunks were each given suspended sentences, of five days each. Emil Amund's was conditioned on his departing for fresh pastures and James Cavanaugh was released on good behavior.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. How Faraday Refused a Pension.

Lord Melbourne once announced to Faraday that it was his pleasing duty to offer him a pension, but, he added, "I suppose all this science is humbug." Faraday at once replied, "If that is your opinion, my lord, I decline the pension," and retired. Melbourne, on meeting some of his colleagues, said: "I have had a strange thing happen. A man has declined a pension." But these gentlemen knew Faraday's position and reputation better than the premier and urged him to rectify the blunder. Faraday was again interviewed, but Melbourne was obliged to retract and apologize before the pension was accepted.

MUST CLEAN UP

Officer Steine Will be Detailed to Act as Sanitary Policeman for a Few Weeks

Officer Steine will be detailed the first of the week to act as sanitary police. He will, it is said, use a bicycle so as to cover the city as rapidly as possible and make a thorough inspection of cesspools, alleys, etc. There will be prosecutions unless the orders of the board of health in the matter of cleanliness are complied with. The work of cleaning up the unsightly debris in various part of the city is progressing but there are several places in the business district which might be greatly improved by a few dollars' expense. The debris is not of a character to be detrimental to the public health, neither is it especially hazardous as regards fires, hence the authorities can do nothing. It is an eyesore, however, and civic pride will doubtless soon cause the places to be tidied up.

LONG LAKE WILL CELEBRATE

Crosby's Point will be Scene of Festivities Appropriate to the National Holiday

The first announcement of any celebration for the national holiday in Crow Wing county, came from South Long Lake, which will celebrate at Crosby's point at the south end of the lake. The program for the day consists of foot races, boys' race, girls' race, ladies' race, men's race, potato race, egg race, ladies' boat race, quait game, etc. A special feature will be a foot race for a purse of $5 between A. L. Sinclair and Oliver Brusseau. There will be dancing in the afternoon and evening, music being furnished by A. Gage and Son. A. L. Sinclair will be marshal of the day and George Thienes, Fred Gibson and Will Englehart will be floor managers.

W. R. Ward, of Dy esburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." H. P. Dunn. m w f

FARM, HOME AND GARDEN

J. M. Elder was speaking to a Dispatch representative of the great disparity of the value of various loads brought from the Crow Wing county farms. Last Winter there were loads of stone brought from his farm which, though very heavy, weighing two or three tons, would bring in only about $1.50. Last week a load of another nature was brought in. It was wool from the flocks on the Elder farm and weighed about 1300 pounds and brought him a check of over $308. The sheep on his farm this year gave an average fleece of about seven pounds. Mr. Elder is well pleased with sheep raising in Minnesota and believes that the animals would be profitable on every farm if given reasonable care.

The Northeast Experiment farm has sent out a long circular setting forth the difference in the amount of product of the average common farm cow and of cows bred for dairy purposes and properly cared for. The statement is the basis of an appeal to the farmers for co-operative breeding associations, whereby a number of farmers unite to secure a male for breeding purposes, even as they form stock companies to purchase breeding horses. The necessity of good breeding sires is even more urgent with cattle than with horses because often the very living of the farmer and his family depends upon the products of his dairy herd.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. H. P. Dunn. m w f

Coffee Beans and Arithmetic.

That the efforts of teachers to do well by their scholars are often misunderstood by parents is illustrated by an amusing incident which occurred in one of the schools. A little girl who had just been promoted to the second grade was having great difficulty with the simple sums in arithmetic which her teacher gave her. The latter took the girl aside and tried to explain to her how addition, subtraction, etc., should be done. She showed the girl how to do the sums by taking some little objects and making the actual physical changes indicated, so securing the desired result. Then she said, "Tell your mother to give you twenty coffee beans and take them each evening when you sit down to do your lessons." The next day the little girl came to school and at once sought out her teacher. "Mamma wants to know whether I am to take the coffee beans mixed with water or to swallow them whole," she said. A visit and personal explanation to the mother were needed before the matter was finally straightened out, and now the little girl is improved greatly in her arithmetic without any internal aid of coffee beans.—Philadelphia Record.

Woman's Beloved Champion

Character Study of Julia Ward Howe, an Optimist at Ninety, Young in Her Principles and Sympathies, Lover of the New Light and Devoted to All Causes For Betterment of the Race.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THE Battle Hymn of the Republic will ever remain one of the noblest songs sung by a nation. In it are combined the highest sentiments of the heart—love of country, religion, liberty and the militant spirit of righteousness. Unlike many popular songs, whose words are little more than doggerel, "The Battle Hymn" is poetry. Its words are peculiarly apt and filled with the spirit of the crucial hour that brought them forth. Even its music belongs peculiarly to the civil war period, its air, "John Brown's Body," having been a favorite in the northern armies. "The Battle Hymn" sounds with the tramp of marching feet. It has a Puritan fervor and devotion. It is a crusader's chant, a song to the god of battles.

Julia Ward Howe, the author of this American "Marseillaise," will be ninety years old on May 27, which has caused everybody that has written about her very ungallantly to call her "the grand old woman" of America. Grand old men may be all right, although that phrase is mildewed, but to talk of grand old women is carrying the antique idea too far. Mrs. Howe may have lived on the earth ninety years, but she is not old. In her principles and sympathies she is young, is abreast of the best thought of the day, is progressive, loves the new light, is in tune with the music of the present and hears the call of the future. Such a soul belies all the ideas of age. The and, as for laws, they were by men, of men and for men. Today, thanks to her efforts and those of her colleagues, the land is dotted with women's colleges, several states already have suffrage, and the supporters of this movement are now making more noise in the world than anybody else, the rights of the sex are being more fully recognized in the laws, and the new woman is capturing the world. The woman's club has come to stay, and man, proud man, dressed not in a little brief authority, but in an apron, is staying home, washing the dishes and minding the baby. No wonder Mrs. Howe is an optimist; no wonder she has lived so long, just to enjoy the novel sensation. Any one who has maneuvered the lord of creation into a position where he is yelling for mercy, as at present, is entitled to take a roseate view and to live to be a hundred.

Fame Runs in the Family.

Julia Ward Howe was born in New York city. Her father was a banker and grandson of two colonial governors of Rhode Island. Her brother was Sam Ward, who was well known a half century ago. In fact, Mrs. Howe is related to so many distinguished people that her family tree looks like a leaf torn out of a biographical dictionary. Two of her daughters, Laura E. Richards and Maud Howe Elliott, are popular writers; her son is a professor in Columbia; her nephew, the late F. Marion Crawford, was a fa-

TAFT A BASEBALL DEVOTEE.

It's the One Clean Sport, the President Told His Hosts.

All doubts concerning President Taft's opinion of baseball were dispelled the other day at Pittsburgh when the president said that in his opinion baseball was the cleanest, the finest and the manliest sport in all Christendom.

"Baseball appears to me as the one clean sport," said Mr. Taft. "There is no jockeying, no flimflamming, no chicanery, as in some other sports—horse racing, for instance. I enjoy baseball. Especially did I enjoy the magnificent contest between Pittsburgh and Chicago."

This indorsement of the national game was uttered in a general talk at the residence of T. K. Laughlin, Jr., where Mr. Taft spent a recent Sunday. In the discussion the president reiterated his dislike for the bunting game. Several times during the game when a hit meant a run and when the batter was ordered to bunt the president gave utterances to impatient remarks. "I believe," he said, "they should hit it out. I like the games where there is plenty of 'slugging.' I believe the sporting writers call it."

TEST OF MONSTER GUN.

Fired Two Hundred and Fifty Shells a Minute at Cleveland, O.

An automatic gun throwing 250 shells every minute which was recently tested at Cleveland, O., may revolutionize phases of modern warfare. This gun is the McClean-Lissak, the largest automatic in the world.

Three pound shells were thrown three and one-half miles out into Lake Erie at the rate of 250 a minute. The gun has been contracted for by the English government and will be used in guarding the English channel. The inventor, S. N. McClean of Cleveland, says that the gun would mow down an advancing line of infantry. The three pound shells replaced by canister would throw 100 shots to a load and 200 loads a minute. The gun is eleven feet long and weighs 900 pounds. The war car, equipped with ammunition and a crew of ten, can travel on ordinary roads at twenty-five miles an hour, wheel into position and shoot while the regular artillery is unlimbering, it is asserted.

CLUB OF OFFICE LOSERS.

"Mutts" of Elgin, Composed of Men on Wrong Side in an Election.

Disappointed office seekers who supported Mayor Albert Fehrman of Elgin, Ill., in the recent municipal election found some consolation the other night by organizing the "mutt" club and talking over the "ifs" and "mights" over the banquet board.

The whims of each "mutt" were in some measure satisfied by the creating of a dummy cabinet analogous to the municipal heads of departments, to which the "mutts" were assigned positions.

Eighteen "mutts," the ones who thought themselves almost sure of positions, received invitations to the affair.

NEW CHINESE RAILROAD.

Shanghai-Hangchow Line Chiefly Built and Run by Chinamen.

The Kiangsu section of the Shanghai-Hangchow railway in China was officially opened the other day, a train bearing a number of officials traversing the Shanghai section of the line. It is expected that through traffic to Hangchow will be inaugurated in three months.

Only Chinese engineers were employed and Chinese capital used in the construction of the railway, which is fairly built. The rails were made by Chinese. The rolling stock and the bridges were built by Americans.

THE "COHERENT LIFE" NOW.

Professor Perry Wants Some Idea That Will Put the Race in Order.

At Boston university commencement the other day Professor Bliss Perry spoke on "The Coherent Life."

"We are hearing much about the simple life and the strenuous life," he said, "but the ideal life is the coherent life. The strenuous life doctrine was one of the most superfluous gospels ever preached."

"We need coherent thoughts, some idea that will beat time for us and help our ragged human regiment to march forward in order."

Praise For Panama Canal Builders.

Henry Savage Landor, the famous explorer, who recently arrived in London after completing a thorough investigation of the work being done in the Panama canal zone, said:

"I always had a very high idea of the American people's ability to accomplish a big task, but in the matter of building this canal, so gigantic is it, I am all admiration. I was particularly impressed with the personnel of the staff, especially the engineers in charge of the various sections of the work. These young army men show ability and enthusiasm which, I believe, cannot be equaled by any other body of men."

New Kind of Persimmon.

Professor Frank Bush, a Harvard botanist, who recently returned to his home in Courtney, five miles north of Independence, Mo., has found a new variety of persimmon. He made the find on a recent "tree hunt" in southern Missouri. The fruit of the new variety is somewhat flattened in shape and has only one or two seeds. Professor Bush says it is very large and luscious.

PREPARING THEIR CASE

Federal Agents Getting Ready for Black Hand Trial.

GOING OVER THE EVIDENCE

Postoffice Inspectors Arranging It for Presentation at the Preliminary Hearing of the Alleged Blackmailers Under Arrest in Ohio—No Absolute Proof That Gang Had a Hand in the Murder of Detective Petrosino.

Cincinnati, June 11.—Having rounded up and arrested nine out of the eleven ringleaders of the Ohio division of the Society of the Banana, commonly known as the "Black Hand," Inspector Oldfield and his half dozen assistants, working under the instructions of Chief Postoffice Inspector Holmes of Cincinnati, are now busily engaged at Columbus, O., in going over the evidence and preparing for the preliminary hearing of the prisoners the first part of next week at Toledo and Cleveland.

The government will rely on the documentary evidence secured in the large number of letters found in the house of Sam Lima when he was arrested at Marion, O., and letters found in possession of other prisoners, to prove conclusively that an elaborately planned organization exists in the Central West for the purpose of extorting money from Sicilians. The specific case which the government will rely upon for conviction is the one wherein the conspirators and blood-money-getters attempted extortion upon John Amicon, the wealthy fruit dealer of Columbus, O.

The government officers are disappointed in the maximum fine of $500 and only eighteen months in prison on the charge of using the mails to commit fraud and also on the charge of conspiracy for extortion, which will be brought against the prisoners under the United States statutes.

Asked as to whether any absolute proof had been found connecting the Ohio Black Hand with the murder of Lieutenant Petrosino in Italy, Chief Inspector Holmes said:

"I have no absolute proof that this gang actually had a hand in the New York Italian detective's murder. But we do know Augustino Marfisi, who was arrested in Dennison, O., was in Palermo at the time of Petrosino's death and that Marfisi returned to America shortly after that murder. Marfisi's visit to Sicily at that time may have been a mere coincidence. But we do know that the gang of which Marfisi is a member is organized exactly like the Society of the Banana today in Sicily."

REGRET THEIR RELEASE

Postal Officials Sorry Italians Have Been Set Free.

Columbus, O., June 11.—The postal officials here regret the release on bonds of Sam Lima of Marion and Sevario Ventola of Columbus, who are regarded as the craftiest of the organized body.

Lima was released at Toledo and Ventola procured temporary freedom when arraigned here. Lima's bond was fixed at $3,000 and Ventola's at $5,000. Both bonds the federal inspectors believe were too low, and they are disappointed that a bond of $10,000 was not demanded in each case.

Now that Lima, particularly, is out of prison, the inspectors believe that it will be difficult to locate his father and brother, who fled from Marion when the first arrest was made. Lima returned to Marion after his release and is reported to have sent word to his fugitive comrades by secret emissaries informing them of the plans of the authorities to arrest them.

Collegero Viccarro, who was arrested at Bellfontaine, was brought to Columbus and subjected to an examination which continued for nearly three hours. Inspector Oldfield, Postmaster Krumm and secret service agents vainly sought to obtain a confession from Viccarro. The little Italian could not be moved. When shown letters believed to be in his own handwriting he shook his head and denied he had ever seen them. The prisoner was taken before Commissioner Johnson and held in bonds of $5,000 for a hearing next Tuesday.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE TO DEATH

St. Paul Man Also Attempts to Kill Another Woman.

Burlington, June 11.—George Fox of St. Paul, a dining car conductor on the Northern Pacific, came to Burlington and going to a rooming house where his wife, Bessie Cox, was rooming, shot her to death. He also attempted to kill another woman named Pearl Smith, but the bullet missed her. He was arrested. Jealousy is said to be the cause.

Killed in Minnesota Mine.

Duluth, June 11.—Martin and George Slarcevic, aged twenty and eighteen years respectively, were killed by an explosion of gunpowder in the Hull open pit mine at Hibbing. They were engaged in blasting ahead of steam shovels to loosen the ore. The unfortunate men were two of six brothers employed in this mine.

PASSENGERS ARE LANDED

Safely Taken From Stranded Steamer Antonio Lopez.

New York, June 11.—Without a mishap the 526 passengers of the Spanish liner Antonio Lopez, which went ashore in the fog off Fire Island on one of the most dreaded stretches of the North Atlantic coast, reached New York. The cabin passengers, 102 in number, were allowed to go ashore at once, while those in the steerage were placed in care of the immigrant authorities at Ellis Island.

The Lopez is in a bad position, lying broadside to the sea. Several unsuccessful efforts were made during the day by the wrecking tugs to drag her from the sand. While the ship appears to be in no immediate danger, the wreckers are lying alongside prepared to take off members of the crew in case a change in the wind should threaten their safety.

The transfer of the passengers, mail and baggage, was safely effected. The last persons to be taken off were about thirty Americans returning from a tour of Spain. Among them were Judge Powell of the supreme court of Manila and a number of school teachers, nurses and clerks stationed at Manila in the government employ, who had stopped in Spain on their journey homeward. Knowing that there was no immediate danger, they made light of the hardship of their unusual adventure, and did much to quiet the excited immigrants.

The Lopez is a steel ship 430 feet in length, with 3,591 net tonnage.

DES MOINES RIVER IS HIGH

Lowlands Under Water and Families Forced to Move.

Des Moines, Ia., June 11.—The stage of the Des Moines river is 12.10, by far the highest this year. Lowlands are all under water and families residing near the Agor packing plant are moving their belongings. It is believed the river will reach almost 14 feet, which would work great havoc in the lower business section of the city.

The Chicago Great Western tracks are in danger unless the flood subsides.

Living on Air.

[Dr. Bradbury announces that food in appreciable quantities has been extracted from the air.—News Item.]

Their long and faithful labors, scientific men declare,

Prove time is coming when no more we'll cultivate the ground.

They've analyzed the ether, and they've found that everywhere,

Although you may not see them, meals for all mankind abound.

They took some sample ether which they scanned with keenest eye

To see what was within it, and imagine their delight!

They saw the same resolve itself into a wedge of pie

And that a piece of creamy cheese was sitting at its right.

In air that stirred at early morn was evidence of steak,

Of eggs and steaming biscuits and a mutton chop well done,

While breakfast food came floating in, hot cakes upon its wake,

And coffee, milk and sugar in abundance for each one.

Of fruits there were unnumbered sorts from prune to velvet peach

And vegetables of every kind to bake or boil or fry.

All these for centuries had lurked beyond our human reach,

Because we hadn't sense enough to pull them from the sky.

We do not feel quite certain yet about this novel claim.

Concerning meals in ether loose we entertain a doubt.

But if the scientists are right the next move of the game

Should be designed to teach us how to get these cheap meals out.

The Power To Do Good

And the Power to Be Good Are Much the Same.

One writer has truly said during sleep and rest, sufficient energy and strength should be supplied for tomorrow's work. If you will learn how to allow perfect relaxation to take place in every part of your body and how to fall asleep whenever you desire, you will need no other remedy than good food to keep you in perfect physical condition.

A food does not need to be heavy to be strengthening. Wheat possesses every element found in the human body, and Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes, a dainty, delicious breakfast food, always ready to serve, contains all the nourishment and strength of wheat in easily digested form.

Be sure it's Egg-O-See you get, for it's the famous and original Egg-O-See process that makes Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes and the E-C Corn Flakes so dainty, so appetizing and so strengthening. A breakfast of either means a satisfied appetite, a grateful stomach and a good day's work free from "nervous headaches" or dullness. Be sure it's the Egg-O-See product. Always watch for the E-C Mark on the package.

The Proud Man.

He was a proud man—proud of his family, so he would not disgrace it; proud of his reputation, so he kept it clean; proud of his ability, so he developed it; proud of his broadmindedness, so he was not a snob; proud of his courage, so he met failure bravely; proud of his achievements, so he never gave up and eventually succeeded.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell.

Sympathetic Magic.

"A friend of mine came across a native sitting in the veranda of a house from which groans proceeded." Mr. E. Thurston stated at the Royal Society of Arts in a lecture on the natives of southern India. "He learned that the man's wife was sitting on a swing studded with sharp nails in order to cure him by sympathetic magic of some trifling ailment."—London Standard.

You Can Test the Kidneys

Let the urine stand for twenty-four hours and if at the end of that time there are deposits of a brick dust variety or if the water becomes smoky and cloudy you may be sure the kidneys are deranged.

Another very marked symptom of kidney disease is pain in the small of the back.

The letter quoted below tells how these symptoms were overcome and kidney disease cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Because of their direct and combined action on both liver and bowels these pills cure the most complicated cases.

Mr. W. H. Cook, R. F. D. No. 4, Lodi, Wis., writes:—"For many years I was troubled with kidney disease and several doctors told me my conditions was very serious but they could not cure me. Then I turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills with excellent results. The sediment disappeared from the urine, the pains left the back and loins and I am feeling well."

THREE MILESTONES IN THE LIFE OF JULIA WARD HOWE.

secret of it all is that she lives in her spirit, with that eternal youth. She is as ready to espouse the cause of the hour now as she was sixty years ago, when helping her husband edit an anti-slavery paper in Boston.

A Famous Quartet.

The present best knows Mrs. Howe by her song, but it may be that the future will prize her most for her work in behalf of the emancipation of women. Since the civil war she has thrown her heart into the cause of higher education for her sex, of equal rights before the law, of female suffrage and of the general movement for the enlightenment and upliftment of woman-kind. She formed one of that celebrated quartet of which the other members were Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Frances E. Willard. She has outlived them all and is here to see the proud day when suffragettes are storming every capital and are going to jail in order that their daughters may go to the ballot box.

Ninety years and practically all of it filled with work for humanity! Before the death of her husband, Samuel Gridley Howe, she helped him in his work for the freeing of Greece, for the liberation of Poland, for the bringing of freedom in France during the July revolution, for the assistance of the blind, for the freeing of the slave and for the other causes that this unselfish and noble man espoused. At one time, while laboring for the Poles, Dr. Howe was thrown into prison in Prussia. In his efforts in behalf of the blind he educated Laura Bridgman, the deaf, dumb and blind girl, who was more famous than Helen Keller is now.

After the death of her husband, which occurred in 1876, Mrs. Howe continued his philanthropic work, turning her attention especially to the peace movement, prison reform and all phases of the woman's cause. When she became active in the crusade for her sex in 1869 there were scarcely any woman's colleges, and these few were slimly attended; equal suffrage had hardly been heard of, mous novelist. She has been an intimate friend of nearly all the great writers on both sides of the Atlantic during the last seventy years. Of them all she regards Emerson as the greatest, a verdict which in itself reveals her spirituality and advancement.

Three events in the career of Mrs. Howe are typical and illuminating. The first occurred in 1861 in the city of Washington. She had gone there with her husband, who did much to aid the Union in its struggle for life. On arriving in the city the tender susceptibilities of her nature were wrought upon by the sight of the army and the long lines of camps. She had known John Brown in life, and, being an accomplished singer, something wrought upon her while passing the marching columns to pour forth in her rich contralto voice the air of "John Brown's Body." The soldiers took it up, and soon it was rolling along the ranks. A friend was so touched by the incident that he asked Mrs. Howe to write more worthy words to the music, and she promised to do so. A morning or two later she arose while it was still dark with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" forming itself in her mind and then and there, with no light but the gray dawn, wrote it practically as it stands today.

The second incident occurred years later in Constantinople. Mrs. Howe had lectured in one of the American colleges near the city and as she was driven down the great hill on which the college stood was suddenly transfixed to hear her own song wafted after her in her journey, an event with all the more poetic significance since the late democratic uprising in Turkey.

The third event occurred in Boston at the time the Italian societies were celebrating the discovery of America by Columbus. They were electrified to have a sweet faced and white haired American woman arise and address them in their own tongue. It was Julia Ward Howe, at home in all lands and devoted to all causes that mean the betterment of the race.
